

Corporate and Commercial Overview

Fact Sheet

Overview

Verisona Law supports an impressive and varied portfolio of businesses by ensuring they address all the legal issues involved in starting and growing a company.

Whether working as an outsourced legal department for startup, small to medium-sized and owner managed businesses, or taking on specific projects for larger corporations, professional practices and management teams, Verisona Law's team of corporate and commercial specialists pride themselves on the highest levels of service.

Verisona Law believes in investing the time to gain a full understanding of the businesses it represents, not only respond to existing needs with transparency and accountability, but also to foresee those in the future.

With straightforward, cost effective advice based on knowledge, experience and good business sense, Verisona Law will help your business seize opportunities, avoid pitfalls and grow to its full potential.

In the beginning – Protect your business

So you've had an idea. And it's a good one. So you want to tell everyone, right? WAIT! What is to stop someone stealing your idea? Unfortunately you can't always rely on an individual's discretion or even their word.

To give you peace of mind, Verisona Law can guide you through the copyright process, obtaining Intellectual Property Licences and Assignments and drawing up Non-Disclosure Agreements for people to sign before you tell them about your new business venture.

Starting out – Put everything in place

At the beginning, you need the reassurance of having the details of your business relationships and agreements in writing. Here are some examples of what you need to think about:

Terms and Conditions

Whether buying in or making sales, whether goods or services, all purchases involved in your need to have terms and conditions so all parties know both their rights and obligations

Agreements

Verisona Law is highly experienced in drawing up contracts and legal documents covering all aspects of modern business, including:

- service levels
- maintenance contracts
- agency and outsourcing
- information technology and e-commerce
- distribution
- consultancy
- confidentiality

Limited Liability

Make sure you take every legal precaution to protect yourself and your personal assets by ensuring Limited Liability for your business.
